

Using the Projector along with computer

After turning on both the computer and projector, press the source button on the projector. See photo.

You should now be projecting an image is onto the screen. If your computer image not displayed, continue pressing the source button, waiting a few seconds each time to toggle to your computer's display. If you are using a laptop, make sure you have selected your laptop's external monitor option. See section labeled Data Transfer Switch.